2005 BOURBON WHISKEY

ELIJAH'S PROPHECY I TENNESSEE BOURBON WITH AN ARMAGNAC FINISH

"Only five hundred and fifty-five bottles of this naughty vintage bourbon are being released. This was the first whiskey I acquired after selling my old whiskey company. These bottles reveal "The Elijah Prophecy."

The prophecy? A vision that these bottles shall resound through time for their magnificence and bless those who hold them with good fortune.

Aged for nineteen and one quarter years in three distinct casks across two continents and three states - most recently in a spectacular 1975 Armagnac barrel at my home in Vermont - you will never taste a bourbon quite like it.

The prophecy came as I tasted this very nectar on the fifth day of the fifth month in the year of our Lord two thousand twenty-four when my fifth child Elijah was born. Here's to you and Elijah!

May God Bless you both for all time."
